

HPE CUSTOMER TERMS – SUPPORT

- Parties. These terms represent the agreement (Agreement) governing the purchase of support services from Hewlett-Packard New Zealand (HPE) by the Customer entity (Customer) as each are identified in the execution section.
- Orders. Order means the accepted order together with any supporting material which the parties identify as incorporated either by attachment or reference, including product lists, hardware or software specifications, standard or negotiated service descriptions, data sheets and their supplements, and statements of work (SOWs), published warranties and service level agreements (Supporting Material). Supporting Material is available to Customer either in hard copy or by accessing a designated HPE website.
- Scope and order placement. This Agreement starts on the Effective Date and continues for the Term unless terminated earlier. If no Term is specified, the Agreement continues until terminated in accordance with its terms. It may be used by Customer either for a single Order or as a framework for multiple Orders and may also be used on a global basis by the parties' affiliates, meaning any entity controlled by, controlling, or under common control with either party (Affiliates). The parties can confirm their agreement to these terms either by signing below or by referencing this Agreement on Orders. Affiliates participate under these terms by placing orders which specify service delivery in the same country as the HPE Affiliate accepting the Order, referencing this Agreement, and specifying any additional terms or amendments to reflect local law or business practices.
- Order arrangements. Customer may place orders with HPE through our website, customer-specific portal, or by letter, fax or e-mail. Where appropriate, orders must specify a delivery date. If Customer extends the delivery date of an existing Order beyond ninety (90) days, then it will be considered a new order.
- Prices and taxes. Prices are as quoted in writing by HPE or, in the absence of a written quote, as set out on our website, customer-specific portal, or HPE's published list price at the time an order is submitted to HPE. Prices are exclusive of taxes (including goods and services tax), duties, and fees (including installation, shipping, and handling) unless otherwise quoted. If a withholding tax is required by law, please contact the HPE order representative to discuss appropriate procedures.
- Invoices and payment. Customer must pay all invoiced amounts within thirty (30) days of HPE's invoice date. HPE may suspend or cancel performance of open Orders or services if Customer does not pay amounts owed on or before the due date.
- Support services. HPE will deliver support services as described in the applicable Supporting Material, which includes a description of HPE's offering, eligibility requirements, service limitations and Customer responsibilities, as well as the Customer systems supported.
- Eligibility. HPE's service, support and warranty commitments do not cover claims resulting from the following and HPE may charge separately for services relating to such claims at the applicable published service rates:

- (a) improper use, site preparation, or site or environmental conditions or other non-compliance with applicable Supporting Material;
 - (b) modifications or improper system maintenance or calibration not performed or authorised by HPE;
 - (c) failure or functional limitations of any non-HPE software or product impacting systems receiving HPE support or service;
 - (d) malware (e.g. virus, worm etc.) not introduced by HPE;
 - (e) abuse, negligence, accident, fire or water damage, electrical disturbances, transportation by Customer, or other causes beyond HPE's control; or
 - (f) use of HPE-branded hardware and software in combination with non-HPE branded products except where authorised or recommended by HPE in Supporting Material.
9. Dependencies. HPE's ability to deliver services will depend on Customer's reasonable and timely cooperation and the accuracy and completeness of any information from Customer needed to deliver the services.
10. Change Orders. HPE and Customer must each appoint a project representative to serve as the principal point of contact in managing the delivery of services and in dealing with issues that may arise. Requests to change the scope of services or deliverables will require a change order signed by both parties.
11. Services performance. HPE must perform services using generally recognized commercial practices and standards. HPE will re-perform any service that fails to meet this requirement where so notified by Customer.
12. Exclusion of warranty. To the full extent permitted by law, HPE excludes all representations, warranties, terms and conditions, whether express or implied (and including those implied by statute, custom, law or otherwise), except as expressly set out in this Agreement, including implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, title and non-infringement.
13. Intellectual property rights. No transfer of ownership of any intellectual property occurs under this Agreement. Customer grants HPE a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free right and licence to any intellectual property that is necessary for HPE and its designees to perform ordered services.
14. Intellectual property rights infringement. HPE will defend and/or settle any claims against Customer alleging that an HPE-branded product or service supplied under this Agreement infringes the intellectual property rights of a third party, provided Customer promptly notifies HPE of the claim and cooperates with our defence. HPE may modify the product or service so as to be non-infringing and materially equivalent, or we may procure a licence. If these options are unavailable, HPE will refund to Customer the amount paid for the affected product in the first year or the depreciated value after or, for support services, the balance of any pre-paid amount or, for professional services, the amount paid. HPE is not liable for claims caused or contributed to by:
- (a) unauthorised use of products, services or deliverables supplied by HPE;
 - (b) HPE's compliance with designs, specifications, instructions or technical information supplied by or on behalf of Customer;
 - (c) changes to products, services or deliverables made by or on behalf of Customer;
 - (d) Customer's non-compliance with the specifications or any other product specific terms or requirements in documentation provided by HPE; or

- (e) use of products, services or deliverables supplied by HPE with products, software or services that are not HPE-branded.
15. Confidentiality. Information exchanged under this Agreement will be treated as confidential if identified as such at disclosure or if the circumstances of disclosure would reasonably indicate such treatment. Confidential information may only be used for the purpose of fulfilling obligations or exercising rights under this Agreement, and shared with employees, agents or contractors with a need to know such information to support that purpose. Confidential information will be protected using a reasonable degree of care to prevent unauthorised use or disclosure for 3 years from the date of receipt or (if longer) for such period as the information remains confidential. These obligations do not cover information that: i) was known or becomes known to the receiving party without obligation of confidentiality; ii) is independently developed by the receiving party; or iii) where disclosure is required by law or a governmental agency.
16. Personal Information. Each party must comply with their respective obligations under applicable privacy and data protection legislation. HPE does not intend to have access to personally identifiable information (PII) of Customer in providing services. If HPE has access to Customer PII stored on a system or device of Customer, such access will likely be incidental and Customer retains full responsibility for Customer PII at all times. HPE will use PII to which it has access strictly for purposes of delivering ordered services.
17. Compliance. Customer must comply with all laws, regulations and legal requirements applicable to the exercise of Customer's rights, and performance of Customer's obligations, under this Agreement. Products, services and deliverables provided under this Agreement are for Customer's internal use and not for further commercialisation. If Customer exports, imports or otherwise transfers products and/or deliverables provided under this Agreement, Customer must comply with applicable laws and regulations and for obtaining any required export or import authorisations. HPE may suspend its performance under this Agreement if required by laws applicable to either party.
18. Limitations and exclusions of liability.
- (a) Limitation. HPE's cumulative liability to Customer for all claims made by Customer under or in connection with this Agreement whether arising under contract (including under any indemnity), negligence or any other tort, under statute or otherwise at all will not exceed in aggregate the greater of $1m or the total fees paid or payable to HPE for the relevant Order in respect of which the claim arose.
- (b) Exclusion. Neither party will be liable to other party in respect of any loss of profits, business, custom, revenue, anticipated savings, goodwill, data or contracts or any type of special, indirect, economic, punitive or consequential loss (including loss or damage suffered as a result of any claims brought by a third party) even if such loss was reasonably foreseeable or the party had been advised of the possibility of the other party incurring the same.
- (c) Application: The limitations and exclusions under sections 18(a) and (b) apply to the full extent permitted by law. Nothing in this Agreement operates to exclude or limit liability: for death or personal injury caused by negligence; for fraud; HPE's liability under section 14; for loss of or damage to tangible property caused by a party's breach of contract or negligence; for breaches of confidentiality under section 15; or for wilful misconduct (being a wilfully wrong act or omission which was known to be wrong and yet was intentionally persisted in with the intention of harming a person's safety or tangible property (excluding negligence or mistake)).
- (d) Savings. HPE will be not in breach of any of its obligations, or be liable under an indemnity, under this Agreement to the extent that the HPE act or omission which would constitute such a breach, or give rise to liability under an indemnity, is caused by an act or omission by or on behalf of Customer.

- (e) Consumer Guarantees Act 1993. The exclusions and limitations of warranties, liability and remedies in this Agreement apply except to the extent prohibited by the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993 in situations where that Act can apply and its provisions have not been excluded or modified as permitted by that Act. Where any supply of products or services is for business purposes, Customer agrees that the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993 does not apply and that given the nature and value of the transaction, this is fair and reasonable.
19. Disputes. If Customer is dissatisfied with any products or services purchased under these terms and disagrees with HPE's proposed resolution, we both agree to promptly escalate the issue to a Vice President (or equivalent executive) in our respective organizations for an amicable resolution without prejudice to the right to later seek a legal remedy.
20. Force Majeure. Neither party will be liable for performance delays nor for non-performance due to causes beyond its reasonable control, except for payment obligations.
21. Termination. Either party may terminate this Agreement (and all unfulfilled obligations) on written notice if the other:
- (a) commits a material breach of this Agreement and fails to remedy the breach within a reasonable period after being notified in writing of the details; or
 - (b) becomes insolvent, unable to pay debts when due, files for or is subject to bankruptcy or receivership or asset assignment.

Any terms in the Agreement which by their nature extend beyond termination or expiration of the Agreement will remain in effect until fulfilled and will apply to both parties' respective successors and permitted assigns. Expiry or termination of this Agreement does not affect accrued rights and remedies.

22. General. This Agreement represents our entire understanding with respect to its subject matter and supersedes any previous communication or agreements that may exist. Modifications to the Agreement may be made only by written amendment signed by both parties. Customer must not assign, novate or transfer any or all of its rights or obligations under this Agreement without HPE's prior written consent (not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed). Sections 1 to 23 take precedence over the Supporting Material.
23. Law and jurisdiction. This Agreement is governed by the laws of New Zealand and the courts of New Zealand have exclusive jurisdiction, except HPE may commence proceedings to recover amounts due and payable in any country where the Customer Affiliate that placed the Order is located or in any country in case of urgent relief. The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods does not apply.
